

FLOWERS

PLANTING—

Made Trees, Roses

TALIS AND

Atlanta Nurseries,

own stock of

ALL FRUITS, ASPARAGUS, ETC.

ATION OF—

SHRUBS, AND ROSES.

cence solicited.

ALANTA GA

UTION

COAL

R TON!

is justly celebrated Coal,

consumers at the remark-

FREE.

Cahaba Coal the equal to save money, telephone

D & CO.

GREET.

OFFICE OF GHERHOFER. M. HOLDER

O. PFEFFER & CO.

esian Wells.

Gas and Water Works Contractors.

DESCRIPTION OF TUBE WELLS MADE:

up Wells a Specialty.

able Landing. CINCINNATI, O.

R. PRICE,

corner of Court Place, now at

Market Street, Louisville, Ky.

and Friends.

and all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

of all kinds, sexual excesses in ma-

influence, and other sins, and

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-

orders and Impotency.

and his practice will give

all forms of PRIVATE

BUSINESS and SEXUAL DIS-</p

THE DAY'S NEWS.

GATHERED FROM THE MAILS AND THE PRESS.

A destructive fire in Savannah. A "School Fire—An American School."—A specimen of the lead at Athens. Miss Lulu Hurst in Collected—Other Events.

The Savannah Times gives a detailed account of the burning of the old Phoenix iron works in that city. A circuit of the entire building had been made by William Hart, the night watchman, only fifteen minutes before, and he saw not even a spark. The alarm bell of the foundry was also sounded as soon as the watchman made the discovery. The cause of the fire is unknown, but the presumption is that some drunken peddler set the fire off with a cigar stub or fireworks. The wind was high, and in a direction favorable to a large conflagration, and the wooden buildings being dry, the old foundry, a one story building, 30x100 feet in size, on Broughton and Randolph streets, was almost consumed by the fierce element before the department could get out, although they answered the call with their usual promptness. The department lost not a moment of time, and went to work striving to check the flames, which leaped forward eager to extend their sway to all the adjacent buildings. In an hour's time the flames had not only been checked, but were under complete control, but not for several hours did the department give up the fight.

At 6:30 A.M. foot on Broughton and Randolph streets, and a space 30x100 feet back of Broughton street had been completely swept. Summing up the losses Mr. William Kehoe stated that the old foundry in which the flames were first discovered, together with its contents, consisting of wooden and iron flasks, lumber, etc., was worth $4,000. The fitting shop, a two-story building, 40x60 feet on Broughton street, containing castings, machinery, tools, etc., worth $5,000. The two-story pattern shop, containing all the patterns of the foundry, worth $3,000, and a small building used as a blacksmith shop, worth $200. This makes the loss of William Kehoe & Co. foot up to $10,200. There was not one dollar of insurance. In addition to this there was stored in the building $5,000 worth of goods in the custody of Major Jordan F. Brooks, receiver of the firm of M. M. Heiter & Co., recently assigned, and $1,500 worth of cotton sacks, trucks, etc., owned by Patrick, brother of Mr. William Kehoe, none of which was insured. Mrs. J. P. Ferguson, who conducted one of the buildings as a blacksmith shop, suffered a loss of about $2,000 in tools, stock, etc., all uninsured. A couple of tenement houses owned by Mr. William Howe, and occupied by colored parties were also burned, causing a loss of $1,000. This makes, altogether, a loss of $12,700, the greatest suffered being Kehoe & Co. From the new foundry, a brick building, was saved, together with its contents, and the work of the firm will be continued without interruption, although under serious disadvantages.

The alarm of fire was given from the Franklin Institute, in Carnesville, Friday morning, and the ceiling overhead in the school room was found to be on fire. It had caught from a defective stove pipe, but the fire was soon extinguished.

Deputy Sheriff Colb, of Sumter, has served an attachment on Mr. A. D. B. McKenzie, of Americus, and closed his doors. Mr. McKenzie at once turned over his keys. When asked the cause, he said that his brother in Fulton had failed and his creditors were after him, and an attachment against him in the store. He said that he did not own his brother or any one else a cent, but there was no use in resisting the law.

The Athens Banner has been shown a spool of the sewing thread now being made by the Athens manufacturing company, and is certainly a new and valuable industry. The thread is smooth and very stout, and far surpasses that from other southern mills. It is retailed and five cents for a large spool, and is destined to take a leading place in the market.

The Atlanta Advertiser reports the arrival in Carnesville of Miss Lulu Hurst and her father and mother. They had a ten day's rest over in the fair city, and then engaged in their engagements, and they concluded to improve the opportunity in a visit home. They have for Chicago, where they are to appear on the 29th. They will then go to unspecified points in the west after which they will visit New Orleans and remain a reason. Owing to the closeness of the times, they haven't made big money in their later engagements. Miss Lulu says it isn't true about Paul Atkinson.

Athens Banner: There will be a heated contest between the parties of Justice of the Peace, vacated by the death of Judge Kenney. The public sum from $600 to $1,000 a year, and can be worked up to more. Mr. W. H. Tamm, of Atlanta, a young man who graduated at the University, accepted this office when it went vacant. He gave it his entire attention, and the place now pays him less than $100 a month, and the office is a great money-making good office.

On Saturday night last the market of Mr. L. G. Ray, in Cedartown, was cleared by thieves and about forty or fifty pounds of gold were stolen. Some of the salts forming a lattice work in front were piled off so as to admit the men, and an attempt was made to enter the establishment of Mr. James Morris, as evidenced by the discovery the next morning of a number of holes that had been bored with an auger in the front door.

In a general street fight in Dallas, Mr. Dave Chestnut, marshal, was hit over the left eye with a pistol and stabbed in his left side. His wounds are very painful and he may lose his left eye. There were several other shooting and cutting scuffles, but none of a serious character.

Locally we will have a hanging next Friday. The dead man is a negro, and rapist is the crime for which he is to hang.

There are numbers of fine cattle in Dougherty county.

The Alliston place near Turnerville was bought recently by Mrs. Washington, of Macon, Ga., for $2,500.

The Arlington correspondent of the Early County News writes:

Some travelers asked me the other day if it was very expensive to raise hogs in this section. To which I answer, no. There is no crop, perhaps, which farmers could raise with so little expense as a lot of hogs. Our hogs are fatened primarily on corn stalks and potatoes, which do not require a very high grade of land nor much skill in their cultivation. Hogs are the great scourge of the hog business in this section, as they can be carried successfully through the spring and summer months to the time of turning the hogs, the potato and ground nut fields, the expense of raising them part.

Hives correspondence: Albany News: At the spring term of our superior court several trials were held, one of which was a trial by jury, the principle witness for the state being George F. Lee, one of the best negroes in our part of the country, and he was tried for the murder of his master, Mr. James Morris, as evidenced by the discovery the next morning of a number of holes that had been bored with an auger in the front door.

In a general street fight in Dallas, Mr. Dave Chestnut, marshal, was hit over the left eye with a pistol and stabbed in his left side. His wounds are very painful and he may lose his left eye. There were several other shooting and cutting scuffles, but none of a serious character.

Locally we will have a hanging next Friday.

The dead man is a negro, and rapist is the crime for which he is to hang.

There are numbers of fine cattle in Dougherty county.

The Alliston place near Turnerville was bought recently by Mrs. Washington, of Macon, Ga., for $2,500.

The Arlington correspondent of the Early County News writes:

Some travelers asked me the other day if it was very expensive to raise hogs in this section.

"Why," replied Lee, "I would not have agreed to that. Do not postpone the request if he is not ready I am, and you know I love you. Will you marry me?"

She dropped her head, dropped her eyes to his, and though they were filled with tears, she said nothing, while those around told him the answer. "Yes."

Mr. Holt proceeded at once to the office of the ordinary, and a minister was summoned. A mutual friend interposed at this juncture of the interview, and requested that the lady be allowed to have a few moments to herself. She was standing on the piazza of the ordinary, and the letter of her betrothal in her hand, Mr. Holt's train pulled into Smithville. Seeing the lady, with whom he was acquainted on the plaza, Mr. Holt left his train, approached her, and being aware that she intended to marry soon, began to tease her about it, when holding up the letter, she said:

"Do you see this—I've just received it and it contains a request for a postponement. I have it and I will postpone the request."

"Why," replied Lee, "I would not have agreed to that. Do not postpone the request if he is not ready I am, and you know I love you. Will you marry me?"

She dropped her head, dropped her eyes to his, and though they were filled with tears, she said nothing, while those around told him the answer. "Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed to Macon for a conductor to meet and relieve him, met the down train. The relief conductor took charge of the train, and Mr. Holt, having met the train at the station, implored them not hastily to take a step further with so much gravity and responsibility, but they were determined. The friend then asked her if she loved Mr. Holt. The answer was prompt, resolute and laconic:

"He then asked her if she loved him better than the gentleman to whom she was engaged. She again answered:

"Yes."

With this the friend withdrew, and in a few minutes one of the most romantic weddings that the village of Smithville had ever witnessed was completed in the home of Mr. Holt, having been telegraphed

CARTRIDGES AND STOOLS FOR SALE.

Bargains

Stools and Cartridges

Tuesday and Wednesday of This Week.

close out my stock of the above
at them at a bargain on the DAYS OF THIS YEAR, 1884.

to sell them at private sale,
at my store on the Night, Commencing at 8 O'Clock,

December 31, 1884.

body and provide you with
what before these goods advance,
they will on account of the high telling them for the years 1885 and

TER LYNCH,
7 Mitchell Streets, Atlanta, Ga.

TRADE MARK

ON EVERY PACKAGE.

Agent for the State of Georgia.

South Broad Street, Atlanta, Georgia.

The "Eagle Shield" Trade Mark

Are conceded the best manufactured.

W. R. SHROPSHIRE,

Power Kerosene Lamps

equally well for illuminating light a minute, so that reading

for stores, shop, ball and church, it light in the world.

Agents wanted

for Circumlocution

A LIGHT CO.,

Manufacturers

CINCINNATI, O.

's Lung Restorer.

of its Wonderful Cures.

Its cough has been very much lessened, while its strength and considerably increased.

Lung Restorer.

only hope for permanent recovery

encouraged very much indeed by her constant use.

and with the permission and consent of our physician, who is impressed with it, I think,

in success in getting rid of her puff.

W. B. MELLERAY,

Binghamton, N.Y.

's Lung Restorer.

the best lung remedy made brothers and sisters had died with about three years not I have had about two years now, though fewer and night sweats, that I get about, and my friends have up given me a great deal of trouble

when they saw any evidence always with the most satisfactory result.

G. H. MCGRATH,

Binghamton, N.Y.

's Lung Restorer.

has come my

it never missed an opportunity to get it, and I find that it gives almost universal

so far as lung diseases are concerned.

she was very weak.

soon recovered

and health, and is to-day better

ever been before.

I regard her response as a miracle,

and this is why she is in wonderful cure.

R. W. BOXNER,

Macon, Ga.

's Lung Restorer.

containing no opium, morphine,

or other poisonous substance.

Send for list of wonderful cures.

R. RANKIN & LAMAR,

Macon, Ga.

SPRING VEHICLES

Vehicle made

The Spring vehicles

shorten according to the weight they are well adapted to rough country and leading carriage builders and

blacksmiths. By L. L. L.

ME'S SURE CURE

WASH and DENTIFRICE

Gums, Ulcers, Sore Mouth, Sore

Teeth and Paroxysms of the Breath

and other dental diseases. Pre-

P. A. W. H. House, Manufacturer, Macon, all druggists and dentists.

BY WHICH ROUTE?

A LIVELY TILT BY LINES BETWEEN KNOXVILLE AND ATLANTA.

The New Lines of Boats to Fly Between Chattanooga and Knoxville Mak or the Western and Atlanta a Competitor for Through Vessel Freight to the South.

Referring again to the information about the line of boats which, as was stated Sunday, would be placed on the Tennessee river between Knoxville and Chattanooga, to work in connection with the Western and Atlantic railroad, business from Knoxville and other East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad points to southern points, THE CONSTITUTION has diligently endeavored to secure all the facts which were accessible, for its readers. The Western and Atlantic people, however, are reticent upon the subject and say that nobody but themselves knows what their action will be.

In conversation with a prominent railroad gentleman, however, upon this subject yesterday, the following information was gathered from the interview:

"This will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"Now, look at how it will affect the western business from East Tennessee. Everything for Texas, Arkansas and Kansas City now goes from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"Now, look at how it will affect the western business from East Tennessee. Everything for Texas, Arkansas and Kansas City now goes from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose 400 miles.

"It will be the most serious blow which has been struck the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads since it came to Georgia," said he. "The business from East Tennessee has long been the cream of the business of that system. The amount of grain, hay, bacon, flour, iron goods, coal, live stock, etc., shipped from Knoxville to Memphis by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia system, and they will take it to Chattanooga and deliver it to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, and the last Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad will lose

THE CONSTITUTION.

Published Daily and Weekly.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION is published every day in the week, and is delivered by carriers in the city, or mailed, postage free, at $1 per month, $2.00 for three months, or $10 a year.

THE CONSTITUTION is for sale on all trains leading out of Atlanta, and at news stands in the principle southern cities.

ADVERTISING RATES depend on location in the paper, and will be furnished on application.

CORRESPONDENCE containing important news solicited from all parts of the country.

ADDRESS all letters and telegrams, and make all drafts or checks payable to

THE CONSTITUTION,

Atlanta, Georgia.

ATLANTA, DECEMBER 30, 1884.

INDICATIONS for the south Atlantic states are partly cloudy weather and local rains, north to east winds and nearly stationary temperature.

The selection of General Hancock as marshal of the day during the inauguration ceremonies is one that will be generally approved. The old general will lend grace to the occasion.

The reception of Mr. Randall in Louisville did honor to the heart of Kentucky, and shows that the hospitality of a great state cannot be blurred by the ravings of an editorial crank.

Some German prince's head is itching for a crown; hence the suggestion that the Congo country be converted into a monarchy. This would be a good way to dispose of the duke of Cumberland.

The misfortunes of General Grant are proving to be more complete than were at first supposed. Instead of skinning other people in Wall street, and thus growing rich, he has been skinned himself, and to such an extent as to give him the sympathy of the entire country.

PERHAPS Austria is the most disturbed country in Europe to-day. The industrial classes are discontented, there is no reward for labor, banks are breaking every day, the public service is venal and nihilism pervades the masses. The empire, in fact, is ripe for revolution.

The report that Mr. John R. McLean is to become the owner of the New York Star, calls up the fact that the same young man is figuring for the possession of the Chicago Times. If he should accomplish his purposes, he would be the owner of three great daily newspapers in three great states.

DIRECTOR-GENERAL BURKE made an explanation before the exhibitors association yesterday which was remarkable for one statement which he made. This is the hint at the possibility of having to appeal to congress to aid the exposition out of the financial muddle into which it seems to be drifting. Such gloomy talk at this early stage is discouraging.

The heart of the average drummer is generally as big as his loquacity uniting. As a class there are none braver, kinder nor more charitable than are the drummers of this country. In standing so closely by one another in time of need they learn to sympathize with suffering humanity the world over, and many are the deeds of kindness done through them. The little act of charity done by "Commercial Tourist," mentioned in another column, is a worthy example for others.

KENTUCKY AND MR. RANDALL. Under this heading the esteemed New York Sun pays its respects to the controversial monologue which Henry Watterson has been engaged in delivering on the small stage that he can call his own. The Sun says:

Every sensible person will be obliged to Mr. Watterson for presenting in succinct and intelligible form the principal grounds for his heroic refusal to welcome Mr. Randall to Kentucky. The statement of the Courier-Journal puts the grievances of the blue grass Commonwealth for it. Indeed, Mr. Watterson speaks with authority for the state in which he is a distinguished and courteous citizen—so plainly that nobody can fail to understand how it stands.

Some of Mr. Watterson's reason for refusing to welcome Mr. Randall to Kentucky are here set forth:

The journey of Mr. Randall is a "dark movement upon revenue reform and revenue reformers."

Mr. Randall is "an illiterate and revengeful man."

Since the election of a speaker, Mr. Randall has been doing all within his power to embitter the people of Kentucky with a bundle of followers.

Mr. Randall has succeeded to disorganize and confuse the cause of the people.

He has "never contributed a thought to its enrichment above the dead level of a mill pond."

Under this heading the esteemed New York Sun pays its respects to the controversial monologue which Henry Watterson has been engaged in delivering on the small stage that he can call his own. The Sun says:

There is now need for the correction of this great evil than there was, but this unjust and improper law is backed by an unscrupulous lobby who pretend to be democrats or republicans, as the case may be, to please their employers, and who are willing to subvert the principles of any party to carry out their purposes.

SUN says, is nothing more nor less than the whisky ring, which, with its hired lobbyists and subsidized newspapers, some time ago made a desperate attempt to swindle the people by postponing the collection of the whisky tax. The proposed measure was a corrupt measure, and its corruption was exposed in these columns time and again. The charge against Mr. Randall will hold good against an overwhelming majority of the democratic party, and it will continue to hold good until the whisky ring ceases its efforts to corrupt legislation. In opposing the whisky tax extension bill Mr. Randall was merely obeying the will of the taxpayers of the country and representing the desire of the democratic party.

It will be observed, that Watterson repeats his charge that Mr. Randall and those who opposed the consideration of the Morrison bill went over to the republicans. If this charge is true [then] the party as represented by the Chicago convention also went over to the republican camp, for the Morrison horizontal bill was laid horizontally on the table, and the whole business effectually disposed of. In that convention the democrats who believed with Mr. Randall were in the majority, as they are in the majority all over the country, and the efforts of Watterson to create a division of the party on such an issue will fail now as it failed then. Moreover, his attacks on Mr. Randall will fail of their purpose. He represents Kentucky to a less degree even than he represents Louisville—and Louisville, by giving Mr. Randall a rousing reception—an ovation, in fact—has entered an emphatic protest against the silly blustering of the Courier-Journal's editor. The whisky ring is not all-powerful, even in Kentucky.

Mr. Randall's tariff views are embodied in the platform of the Chicago convention, but even if it were otherwise, he would still have a right to his opinion. We have reason to know that his opinions in regard to the tariff and other matters of governmental policy, coincide with the opinions of an overwhelming majority of practical people at the south; but even if they did not, the people of the south would still owe him a debt of gratitude for the magnificent fight he made in their behalf, as the brilliant and audacious leader of a handful of democrats in the house, he compelled the republican majority to make such concessions as could be wrested from them by parliamentary skill and a watchfulness that knew no rest. Affairs have come to a pretty pass, indeed, when the whisky ring can command the people of the south to insult such a man as Randall.

THE INTERNAL REVENUE LAWS. The report that Mr. John R. McLean is to become the owner of the New York Star, calls up the fact that the same young man is figuring for the possession of the Chicago Times. If he should accomplish his purposes, he would be the owner of three great daily newspapers in three great states.

DIRECTOR-GENERAL BURKE made an explanation before the exhibitors association yesterday which was remarkable for one statement which he made. This is the hint at the possibility of having to appeal to congress to aid the exposition out of the financial muddle into which it seems to be drifting. Such gloomy talk at this early stage is discouraging.

The heart of the average drummer is generally as big as his loquacity uniting. As a class there are none braver, kinder nor more charitable than are the drummers of this country. In standing so closely by one another in time of need they learn to sympathize with suffering humanity the world over, and many are the deeds of kindness done through them. The little act of charity done by "Commercial Tourist," mentioned in another column, is a worthy example for others.

The suggestion of unnecessary offices, of useless examinations, etc., etc., called for by Mr. Watterson for the correction of this great evil than there was, but this unjust and improper law is backed by an unscrupulous lobby who pretend to be democrats or republicans, as the case may be, to please their employers, and who are willing to subvert the principles of any party to carry out their purposes.

THE RAILROADS IN 1884. After all only fifteen roads have been sold in foreclosure proceedings during the year, but a large number of sales is anticipated unless there is a change in the times very soon. During the year receivers have been appointed for forty-three companies, and a considerable number of companies are being put out of bankruptcy with increasing difficulty. But still 4,000 miles of new track have been laid on 160 different lines. A very considerable portion of this mileage consists, however, of branches and extensions. A good deal of the railroad building of the year has been in Oregon and California, and there will soon be an all-rail line between Portland and San Francisco. In the south no long line has been built except the road through Maryland to a point opposite Norfolk, which has been completed.

A great many new roads are needed and have been projected, and perhaps as many more extensions must be built to give every portion of the country good transportation facilities. Atlanta wants an extension of the Georgia Pacific to Texarkana, an extension of the Marietta and North Georgia to the Richmond and Danville system in North Carolina, and an all-line to Columbus; Columbus wants a line down the river to a connection with the Florida system; Rome wants a direct route to Columbus; Macon wants an all-line to Florida, and Augusta wants an open route to Knoxville and a number of short lines. And so we might go on, until every trade center in the south had been mentioned. Nearly all, if not all, of these lines will be built, and when good times return we will be apt to witness an activity in railroad building that will eclipse the record of 1880.

It is to be feared that Bre George W. Cable is gradually working himself into a colored desacralization, and if we may be allowed to give play to our knowledge of French.

It is thought that Watterson has marked the man who sold Mr. Randall a piece of Louisiana.

The fact may as well be acknowledged that Sam Randall is not popular in New Orleans.

SCENE OF busy northern correspondents are writing up New Orleans for their respective papers and as they see everything from different points of view no two of them agree. The Chicago Times correspondent found that nobody in New Orleans professed to like Mr. George W. Cable. It was claimed that Cable had not done the crooks justice in his novels and sketches. A descendant of the early French settlers of Louisiana told the correspondent that Cable had been writing up the country of which he knew nothing, and the while he lived in New Orleans he must have associated chiefly with "niggers" as his writings indicated that he had not come much in contact with any other class of population. The northern visitors to the exposition keep a sharp lookout for the crooks beauties. As rule they fail to find them. The best types of beauty among the crooks are not on exhibition. They may be seen Sunday morning at the cathedral, or at the French opera on a special occasion, or at the annual reception of the Pickwick club. As a class, the crook women are not bad. After getting rid of his crooks collection the average visitor finds other pictures of objects of interest and has no cause to complain of a lack of amusement.

DOES Haberdash count Missouri as a member of the solid south?

We seem to miss the tree trade base of the Chicago Tribune. Watterson's shrill treble sounds very lonely.

The Boston Journal says that a Vicksburg, Mississippi, judge fixed a two year and a half old child $2.40 or thirty days imprisonment. People in search of sensational southern news will find it in the columns of the Boston Journal.

ROBERT DAVID COLLIER has been studying Spurgeon. The great preacher is a genius. He sinks low and rises high. His inspirations possess him. He never possesses his inspirations. He is fond of old fashioned methods of constructing his sermons—introduction, first, second, third, fourth, application, and conclusion.

His speech is simple savor, going straight to the mark. He is logical and practical. He has a grand voice, filling all space and filling it fully. He is a short, stout man, with a very unattractive face. His forehead is low, his eyes small and sunken, his chin heavy and protruding, his upper lip short, his complexion yellow. There is not a trace of refinement in his face. He wears a full beard. But the personal magnetism of the man overbalances the drawbacks of his appearance. When he once begins speaking he masters his audience.

IT is not probable that Watterson will put his Kentucky kinkus on Mr. Randall's trail. Watterson is savage, but he is not sanguinary.

THE STREETcar drivers of New Orleans have exhibited a good deal of statesmanship. Evidently they know when to strike.

THE fact that negro minstrel companies sometimes go to pieces on the road is a sure sign that the American public fails to appreciate humor that can be found in Hostetter's stomach almanac for 1882.

SPREADING of the mineral wealth of Georgia the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette says: "Georgia is the Ohio of the south. This was said many years ago, when Alexander H. Stephens and Lewis C. Campbell debated the relative value of Ohio and Georgia cotton." The C.G. gets the matter backwards. Mr. Stephens showed in that debate that Ohio was the Georgia of the west.

THE INTERNAL REVENUE LAWS. The democratic party will be held responsible for all laws in existence after they come into power, and the policy to be shaped by the leaders of the party, ought to be to correct as soon as possible the evils of which we complained so bitterly during republican administration.

The internal revenue laws have been very obnoxious to our people, and no one can believe that the democratic party can hope to continue in power unless it makes every effort in its power to correct the evils that have resulted from the enforcement of these laws, and the only way to correct these evils is to entirely abolish them.

It will be remembered by those who are posted in the early history of our country that the great leaders of the democratic party gained strength by successfully advocating the repeal of just such laws, after the war of 1862. Pending the administration of General Washington there was an internal revenue system, something like the present, that was so obnoxious to the people as, in many instances, lead them into open revolt.

When President Jefferson was elected these laws were repealed, and he congratulated the country in the following strong language in his second inaugural address:

The suppression of unnecessary offices, of useless examinations, etc., etc., called for by Mr. Watterson for the correction of this great evil than there was, but this unjust and improper law is backed by an unscrupulous lobby who pretend to be democrats or republicans, as the case may be, to please their employers, and who are willing to subvert the principles of any party to carry out their purposes.

THE RAILROADS IN 1884. After all only fifteen roads have been sold in foreclosure proceedings during the year, but a large number of sales is anticipated unless there is a change in the times very soon. During the year receivers have been appointed for forty-three companies, and a considerable number of companies are being put out of bankruptcy with increasing difficulty. But still 4,000 miles of new track have been laid on 160 different lines. A very considerable portion of this mileage consists, however, of branches and extensions. A good deal of the railroad building of the year has been in Oregon and California, and there will soon be an all-rail line between Portland and San Francisco. In the south no long line has been built except the road through Maryland to a point opposite Norfolk, which has been completed.

We have a faint suspicion that the leading and imperious Kentucky interest mentioned in the last count of this interesting indictment is the whisky tax extension bill.

Is there any danger of a flank movement on the part of the Kentucky crowd, so long as Mr. Watterson stands firmly behind us, and behind the front door of Kentucky, with his elbow braced against the jamb, right and left?

Some of Mr. Watterson's reason for refusing to welcome Mr. Randall to Kentucky are here set forth:

The journey of Mr. Randall is a "dark movement upon revenue reform and revenue reformers."

Mr. Randall is "an illiterate and revengeful man."

Since the election of a speaker, Mr. Randall has been doing all within his power to embitter the people of Kentucky with a bundle of followers.

Mr. Randall has succeeded to disorganize and confuse the cause of the people.

He has "never contributed a thought to its enrichment above the dead level of a mill pond."

Under this heading the esteemed New York Sun pays its respects to the controversial monologue which Henry Watterson has been engaged in delivering on the small stage that he can call his own. The Sun says:

There is now need for the correction of this great evil than there was, but this unjust and improper law is backed by an unscrupulous lobby who pretend to be democrats or republicans, as the case may be, to please their employers, and who are willing to subvert the principles of any party to carry out their purposes.

THE RAILROADS IN 1884. After all only fifteen roads have been sold in foreclosure proceedings during the year, but a large number of sales is anticipated unless there is a change in the times very soon. During the year receivers have been appointed for forty-three companies, and a considerable number of companies are being put out of bankruptcy with increasing difficulty. But still 4,000 miles of new track have been laid on 160 different lines. A very considerable portion of this mileage consists, however, of branches and extensions. A good deal of the railroad building of the year has been in Oregon and California, and there will soon be an all-rail line between Portland and San Francisco. In the south no long line has been built except the road through Maryland to a point opposite Norfolk, which has been completed.

We have a faint suspicion that the leading and imperious Kentucky interest mentioned in the last count of this interesting indictment is the whisky tax extension bill.

Is there any danger of a flank movement on the part of the Kentucky crowd, so long as Mr. Watterson stands firmly behind us, and behind the front door of Kentucky, with his elbow braced against the jamb, right and left?

Some of Mr. Watterson's reason for refusing to welcome Mr. Randall to Kentucky are here set forth:

The journey of Mr. Randall is a "dark movement upon revenue reform and revenue reformers."

Mr. Randall is "an illiterate and revengeful man."

Since the election of a speaker, Mr. Randall has been doing all within his power to embitter the people of Kentucky with a bundle of followers.

Mr. Randall has succeeded to disorganize and confuse the cause of the people.

He has "never contributed a thought to its enrichment above the dead level of a mill pond."

Under this heading the esteemed New York Sun pays its respects to the controversial monologue which Henry Watterson has been engaged in delivering on the small stage that he can call his own. The Sun says:

There is now need for the correction of this great evil than there was, but this unjust and improper law is backed by an unscrupulous lobby who pretend to be democrats or republicans, as the case may be, to please their employers, and who are willing to subvert the principles of any party to carry out their purposes.

THE RAILROADS IN 1884. After all only fifteen roads have been sold in foreclosure proceedings during the year, but a large number of sales is anticipated unless there is a change in the times very soon. During the year receivers have been appointed for forty-three companies, and a considerable number of companies are being put out of bankruptcy with increasing difficulty. But still 4,000 miles of new track have been laid on 160 different lines. A very considerable portion of this mileage consists, however, of branches and extensions. A good deal of the railroad building of the year has been in Oregon and California, and there will soon be an all-rail line between Portland and San Francisco. In the south no long line has been built except the road through Maryland to a point opposite Norfolk, which has been completed.

We have a faint suspicion that the leading and imperious Kentucky interest mentioned in the last count of this interesting indictment is the whisky tax extension bill.

Is there any danger of a flank movement on the part of the Kentucky crowd, so long as Mr. Watterson stands firmly behind us, and behind the front door of Kentucky, with his elbow braced against the jamb, right and left?

Some of Mr. Watterson's reason for refusing to welcome Mr. Randall to Kentucky are here set forth:

The journey of Mr. Randall is a "dark movement upon revenue reform and revenue reformers."

Mr. Randall is "an illiterate and revengeful man."

Since the election of a speaker, Mr. Randall has been doing all within his power to embitter the people of Kentucky with a bundle of followers.

Mr. Randall has succeeded to disorganize and confuse the cause of the people.

He has "never contributed a thought to its enrichment above the dead level of a mill pond."

Under this heading the esteemed New York Sun pays its respects to the controversial monologue which Henry Watterson has been engaged in delivering on the small stage that he can call his own. The Sun says:

There is now need for the correction of this great evil than there was, but this unjust and improper law is backed by an unscrupulous lobby who pretend to be democrats or republicans, as the case may be, to please their employers, and who are willing to subvert the principles of any party to carry out their purposes.

THE RAILROADS IN 1884. After all only fifteen roads have been sold in foreclosure proceedings during the year, but a large number of sales is anticipated unless

is very popular in Macon, and has to the pleasure of her friends during the chicken house of Mr. A. B. light and made a clean sweep of his

Quarterman of Liberty county, is in gosses of Mr. G. B. Detre, very powerful men of the

and Georgia railroad recently.

R. Dillon, the master mechanic of jewelry house of Morris Williams

attracts much attention.

Received yesterday at the post office

F. J. Findley, dated Griffin, say-to him that he had robes to his trunk. He was supposed to Macon.

Arrived on suspicion this afternoon with having some goods from

W. Warren has returned from New Orleans back. There is no one south who is esteemed more by his able divine.

Was held a very interesting meeting of the head of programmes

Exodus Freed, chairman of the Woodruff to review the plan pre-

and will finish it as soon as possible, the able traveling salesman

and Co., Baltimore, is returning, bringing a handsome line of the prince of drummers and is

Jack Phillips was arrested this in instance of Charles Cambell a baker, charging him with having been left this morning for his friends.

N. Taylor one of the leading businessmen of Atlanta, has been days in the city with his friends, who let him a room in the hotel where he left for a visit to New Orleans.

Gadets will hold their annual elections on January 1st.

Arthur, Ed-Pep, will be preparing to leave for West and will be one of the prettiest sights

to be observed in this city by the number of young ladies who enjoy the evening.

The evening will end with a concert by Mr. and Mrs. F.

WYNTON.

A Midday Shot.

—A wretched dog

of Dr. J. W. Hall, on Pine

night, bit his daughter.

His daughter a piece of work in the corner and turned to speak to her father, heard followed by the thud of a ball near the spot where she had been before. The ball crashed through the window and lay in the

was a narrow one and crumpled

the room. No arrests have been made.

To Stick to Beecher.

Work Commercial Advertiser.

Mr. I. E. Beecher as a go-pal above any other man I

that this boy of boycotting him

some members of his congregation

is not unusual of these

Synthetic church falling from $10.

Mr. Beecher has repeatedly that he thought it would be best to resign, as he was

I shall go to work for my self, as I have done hitherto, and go to whatever bidding the world

the whole disturbance has been done who did not represent the great

Mr. Beecher was a great part of his congregation. I advise you to do the same.

ought to be a political leader—

A joyful party.

The case of warm friends has come to

Tennessee. Mr. Grimes buttoned

front and went to call on a

his sister, who was also one of Mr.

friends met him at the door and said, "We have

At this juncture the old lady

other sister came out armed with

and pointed G. L. G. who

and was about to cut her throat

now in who didn't understand

say they were coming to the old dame's away. These little they give a proper speech on in the Tennessee heart may attain.

Fools Who Elope.

Philippine Times.

who eloped from a Long Island

with the wife of the pasta-ges returned to his wife. He has

This is all very well for him.

in the case who is probably no

than he. She has also returned not to her home. She seriously.

When fools elope it is the wof-

ful fool. —She has everything

in a hundred thousand ways

the runaway husband takes him back,

or the runaway wife cannot do

the tools who elope will long

be with them will continue to be the world is banished up.

news of Chloral.

pois Journal.

now in the case of the Rev.

so mysteriously disappeared

as to mystery. At least that is

The Rev. Thomas

and it is held, and it is supposed that

also to withdraw his money

his funds are exhausted the

of the court to-morrow.

Rains in Arkansas.

LITTLE Rock, December 29.—Rain began on midnight of Friday, and has continued ever since.

The total fall here to seven o'clock this evening was ten inches, over 412 inches of which was on Sunday. Reports show that the rainfall throughout most of the state

All the rivers and streams are out of their banks and flooding the country for miles. The Arkansas river has been inches on a regular basis Sunday, at the time of the Chicago Franks.

CHICAGO, December 29.—The county grand jury

today took up the investigation of the eighteenth

ward election frauds, which was first witness

A. M. Day, member of the other franchises

which was organized to aid in the prosecution

declined to testify unless he could be assured that the information he would furnish would not be used against the prosecution now being carried on in the United States. He was excused, and the matter will be brought to the at-ention of the court to-morrow.

Railroad Collision in Virginia.

ALEXANDRIA, December 29.—The passenger train

on the Virginia railroad was run into by the freight train at Bealeton station last night, while the former was stationary. The baggage master, was knocked from the platform, and laid unconscious on the tracks, beneath the freight train, was thrown off his rendered insensible consciousness.

The bodies recovered.

RALEIGH, N. C., December 29.—The bodies of Charles Smith and Henry B. Fritchell, the alleged tugboats who were lynched last week, have been recovered from the Neuse river. They were found in chains, handcuffed and riddled with bullets.

NEGRO BRASS THIEVES.

MONS., December 29.—[Special.]—This afternoon Mr. Chas. Findley discovered two negroes stealing brass from his iron foundry and he tried to arrest them. One drew a bat and some brass in his eyes and ran. He was blinded so badly that he could not see to catch them. They made good their escape.

DEFENDING HIS PETS.

THE LITTLE HOUSE:
A Big Time on Yesterday—And Shaded About
Full—Some of the Notable Gifts.

It would help the Doomed Treaties—Rushing to the Aid of the Spanish Treaty—The Convention of Various Elements to Defeat It—

A Waste of Diplomatic Skill.

WASHINGTON, December 29.—[Special.]—Secretary Frelinghuysen's studied defense of the Spanish treaty has been carefully perused by the members of congress who are recuperating in Washington during the recess. The secretary gives evidence of his ardent desire for the ratification of the treaty, but I have heard of no decided effect from his dignified state paper. The president's diplomatic advisers have accumulated an over-stock of treatises which will find it hard to dispose of.

The influence of the administration is to be concentrated in favor of the Nicaraguan scheme. The objections made to it are entirely different from those aggressively preferred by the scaled up critics of the Spanish treaty. The others are mild measures in comparison to this bold assertion of supremacy on the continent. The acquisition of a narrow strip of foreign territory, which may prove the beginning of a greater extension, is a temptation to the greedy speculators on this continent have provoked the angry protest of the believers in the Monroe doctrine as it is generally preached.

These critics have been severally during the year past.

President Arthur's own administration, owing to the confusion of the big dinner and the start becoming of goods and contributions, they found it impossible to prepare a full list of the goods sent to the United States.

In the meantime we note a few of the notable contributions that were ordered.

Messrs. Boyd & Baxter sent a fine home-made beef, mutton, bacon, ham, etc., to the Spanish government

PROFESSIONAL CARD.

H. V. WASHINGTON,
Attorney at Law,
attention to business of non-resident clients.
Macon, Ga.

ANGIER,
Fee Lawyer and Counselor at Law, fee in all the Courts, State and Federal and receive prompt and constant attention room 22, Gate City National Bank Building.

ATLANTA SURGICAL INFIRMARY,
Rooms and Office No. 107 Marietta St., Ga., under the direction of J. M. C. GASTON, M.D., competent assistants, and trained nurses.

S. W. AUSTIN,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
two and one-half Marietta St., Combination Law and Collections, a Specialty.
Business till Jan 1st.

FREUDENTHAL M. D.
SPECIALIST,
In cases of disease peculiar to women,
station free. Office and dispensary No. 70 road, Room 2, Hours 9 to 12, 2 to 5 p.m.

SOKERMAN, Architect,
City Bank Building, charges the same for his professional services. The same charge excessive can find a cheap architect in the city.

DR. & BAYLOR,
CIVIL ENGINEERS AND SURVEYORS,
Office No. 7 North Broad Street, Atlanta, Ga.
Estimating, planning, specifications and construction superintendents works, bridges, canals, roads, railroads and mine works. Correspondence solicited.

IND. G. LIND, F. E. COOPER,
Architect, Hall street, over Schumann's Drug Store.

J. L. LAWTON,
Attorney at Law,
24 Court Building, Atlanta, Ga.
Correspondence solicited.

D. CUNNINGHAM AND GEO. G. SPARKE,
Attorneys at Law,
5 and 6 Court Building, Atlanta, Ga.
Alabama state, Atlanta, Ga.

L. & G. B. TYE,
Attorneys at Law,
McDonough, Ga.

ON COLVILLE,
Attorneys at Law,
No. 23½ Whitehall, Atlanta, Ga.

Haygood & MARTIN,
Attn. to the Poor,
17½ Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga.

M. ATKINSON,
Attorney at Law,
Newnan, Ga.

F. F. O'NEILL,
Attorney at Law,
Office with Emory Speer.

LATTNER,
Attorney at Law,
Gainesville, Ga.

Bailey building. A general law practice in State and Federal Courts

and will give prompt attention.

W. W. HARRIS,
Attorney at Law,
Toocoo, Georgia,

Room No. 5 Newman building. Will pre-

all courts, state and federal.

DR. SPEER,
Attorney at Law,
For 10 years at Court Place, now at Market Street, Louisville, Ky.

Third and Fourth, and has 200 physicians and the best medical and surgical specialties.

USES ALL FORMS OF PRIVATE MEDICAL AND SEXUAL DIS-SES.

SEPHYLIS IS CERTAINLY CURED AND CURED BY DR. SPEER.

ED. S. SPEER,
Attorneys at Law,
Atlanta, Ga.

BECKWITH & SIMS, AWYLLS,
Atlanta, Ga.

Building, third floor, room 106. Call a specialty.

THE KIMBALL HOUSE.

Mr. Kimball Tells Why the House Will Not be Opened to the Public Yet.

What about a New Year's dinner at the new Kimball? asked a Constitution man of Mr. H. L. Kimball yesterday.

"I expect to take my New Year's dinner
there," was the reply.

"You don't mean to say the house will be open to the public?"

"No. I don't think that would be wise to undertake. While we have several hundred residents, the result, the killing of Anderson Grant and Josiah Prater, it seems, has enraged the mobs, and I am afraid that if we do open the house, we may be liable to a big state of affairs." As he spoke, Mr. Kimball, who was there, was surrounded by the mobs, who were shouting and shouting.
The redoubtable pedestrian, Alf Prater, whose swarthy countenance is well known to the Atlanta public, who was one of the posse
in the fight, and who indeed had ridden twelve miles from Gainesville and returned from the scene of the fight, was shouting and shouting.
The posse, who were the make of their vengeance, parties of long-limbed sympathizers with the blackaders, followed him about, and with smothered curses, not loud but deep, leveled
at his person, and future state in the imagination
that to come, so worked upon the imagination of the crowd, that they were shouting and shouting
the swarthy countenance, to put him in the position of a criminal, to put him in the position of a murderer. The crowd was shouting and shouting.
The shades of evening were falling fast and it soon became so dark that Prater and his steed were unable to see the road ahead of them, but the steady gallop was kept up until suddenly "crash!"
"Crash, back, it's the coroner!" shouted that famous man.

The roll call proceeded, and when finished
stated over, Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney, and Coates—
Navy, Messrs. Stoeckell and Gray—2.

This action cooled off the audience. It was not what they wanted or had expected, but
they had to abide the result. Mr. Mahoney
then arose and moved that the
charge against Mr. Kimball be withdrawn.
Mr. Bunting added his voice to the motion,
and it was adopted by the
same vote precisely and the vote on the resolution
was withdrawn.

Mr. Stockell then arose and expressed a desire to know where the action just had left
the Masher question. He was informed that the matter stood just where it was before the
last meeting.

The clerk was then asked to read the two
reports of the Masher investigation committee
and when done, to substitute a motion to adopt the minority report. The ayes and
noes were voted for, and the call resulted: Ayes
—Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee, Gray,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Longley—2.

A call was then made for a vote to adjourn
to another meeting.

"I have read that resolution, and I am for it
and heart and soul. Put me down aye."

The roll call proceeded, and when finished
stated over, Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney, and Coates—
Navy, Messrs. Stoeckell and Gray—2.

This action cooled off the audience. It was
not what they wanted or had expected, but
they had to abide the result. Mr. Mahoney
then arose and moved that the
charge against Mr. Kimball be withdrawn.
Mr. Bunting added his voice to the motion,
and it was adopted by the
same vote precisely and the vote on the resolution
was withdrawn.

Mr. Stockell then arose and expressed a desire to know where the action just had left
the Masher question. He was informed that
the matter stood just where it was before the
last meeting.

The clerk was then asked to read the two
reports of the Masher investigation committee
and when done, to substitute a motion to
adopt the minority report. The ayes and
noes were voted for, and the call resulted: Ayes
—Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee, Gray,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Longley—2.

A call was then made for a vote to adjourn
to another meeting.

"I have read that resolution, and I am for it
and heart and soul. Put me down aye."

The roll call proceeded, and when finished
stated over, Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Gray—2.

This action cooled off the audience. It was
not what they wanted or had expected, but
they had to abide the result. Mr. Mahoney
then arose and moved that the
charge against Mr. Kimball be withdrawn.
Mr. Bunting added his voice to the motion,
and it was adopted by the
same vote precisely and the vote on the resolution
was withdrawn.

Mr. Stockell then arose and expressed a desire to know where the action just had left
the Masher question. He was informed that
the matter stood just where it was before the
last meeting.

The clerk was then asked to read the two
reports of the Masher investigation committee
and when done, to substitute a motion to
adopt the minority report. The ayes and
noes were voted for, and the call resulted: Ayes
—Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee, Gray,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Longley—2.

A call was then made for a vote to adjourn
to another meeting.

"I have read that resolution, and I am for it
and heart and soul. Put me down aye."

The roll call proceeded, and when finished
stated over, Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Gray—2.

This action cooled off the audience. It was
not what they wanted or had expected, but
they had to abide the result. Mr. Mahoney
then arose and moved that the
charge against Mr. Kimball be withdrawn.
Mr. Bunting added his voice to the motion,
and it was adopted by the
same vote precisely and the vote on the resolution
was withdrawn.

Mr. Stockell then arose and expressed a desire to know where the action just had left
the Masher question. He was informed that
the matter stood just where it was before the
last meeting.

The clerk was then asked to read the two
reports of the Masher investigation committee
and when done, to substitute a motion to
adopt the minority report. The ayes and
noes were voted for, and the call resulted: Ayes
—Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee, Gray,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Longley—2.

A call was then made for a vote to adjourn
to another meeting.

"I have read that resolution, and I am for it
and heart and soul. Put me down aye."

The roll call proceeded, and when finished
stated over, Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Gray—2.

This action cooled off the audience. It was
not what they wanted or had expected, but
they had to abide the result. Mr. Mahoney
then arose and moved that the
charge against Mr. Kimball be withdrawn.
Mr. Bunting added his voice to the motion,
and it was adopted by the
same vote precisely and the vote on the resolution
was withdrawn.

Mr. Stockell then arose and expressed a desire to know where the action just had left
the Masher question. He was informed that
the matter stood just where it was before the
last meeting.

The clerk was then asked to read the two
reports of the Masher investigation committee
and when done, to substitute a motion to
adopt the minority report. The ayes and
noes were voted for, and the call resulted: Ayes
—Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee, Gray,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Longley—2.

A call was then made for a vote to adjourn
to another meeting.

"I have read that resolution, and I am for it
and heart and soul. Put me down aye."

The roll call proceeded, and when finished
stated over, Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Gray—2.

This action cooled off the audience. It was
not what they wanted or had expected, but
they had to abide the result. Mr. Mahoney
then arose and moved that the
charge against Mr. Kimball be withdrawn.
Mr. Bunting added his voice to the motion,
and it was adopted by the
same vote precisely and the vote on the resolution
was withdrawn.

Mr. Stockell then arose and expressed a desire to know where the action just had left
the Masher question. He was informed that
the matter stood just where it was before the
last meeting.

The clerk was then asked to read the two
reports of the Masher investigation committee
and when done, to substitute a motion to
adopt the minority report. The ayes and
noes were voted for, and the call resulted: Ayes
—Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee, Gray,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Longley—2.

A call was then made for a vote to adjourn
to another meeting.

"I have read that resolution, and I am for it
and heart and soul. Put me down aye."

The roll call proceeded, and when finished
stated over, Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Gray—2.

This action cooled off the audience. It was
not what they wanted or had expected, but
they had to abide the result. Mr. Mahoney
then arose and moved that the
charge against Mr. Kimball be withdrawn.
Mr. Bunting added his voice to the motion,
and it was adopted by the
same vote precisely and the vote on the resolution
was withdrawn.

Mr. Stockell then arose and expressed a desire to know where the action just had left
the Masher question. He was informed that
the matter stood just where it was before the
last meeting.

The clerk was then asked to read the two
reports of the Masher investigation committee
and when done, to substitute a motion to
adopt the minority report. The ayes and
noes were voted for, and the call resulted: Ayes
—Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee, Gray,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Longley—2.

A call was then made for a vote to adjourn
to another meeting.

"I have read that resolution, and I am for it
and heart and soul. Put me down aye."

The roll call proceeded, and when finished
stated over, Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Gray—2.

This action cooled off the audience. It was
not what they wanted or had expected, but
they had to abide the result. Mr. Mahoney
then arose and moved that the
charge against Mr. Kimball be withdrawn.
Mr. Bunting added his voice to the motion,
and it was adopted by the
same vote precisely and the vote on the resolution
was withdrawn.

Mr. Stockell then arose and expressed a desire to know where the action just had left
the Masher question. He was informed that
the matter stood just where it was before the
last meeting.

The clerk was then asked to read the two
reports of the Masher investigation committee
and when done, to substitute a motion to
adopt the minority report. The ayes and
noes were voted for, and the call resulted: Ayes
—Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee, Gray,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Longley—2.

A call was then made for a vote to adjourn
to another meeting.

"I have read that resolution, and I am for it
and heart and soul. Put me down aye."

The roll call proceeded, and when finished
stated over, Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Gray—2.

This action cooled off the audience. It was
not what they wanted or had expected, but
they had to abide the result. Mr. Mahoney
then arose and moved that the
charge against Mr. Kimball be withdrawn.
Mr. Bunting added his voice to the motion,
and it was adopted by the
same vote precisely and the vote on the resolution
was withdrawn.

Mr. Stockell then arose and expressed a desire to know where the action just had left
the Masher question. He was informed that
the matter stood just where it was before the
last meeting.

The clerk was then asked to read the two
reports of the Masher investigation committee
and when done, to substitute a motion to
adopt the minority report. The ayes and
noes were voted for, and the call resulted: Ayes
—Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee, Gray,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Longley—2.

A call was then made for a vote to adjourn
to another meeting.

"I have read that resolution, and I am for it
and heart and soul. Put me down aye."

The roll call proceeded, and when finished
stated over, Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—
Navy—Messrs. Stoeckell and Gray—2.

This action cooled off the audience. It was
not what they wanted or had expected, but
they had to abide the result. Mr. Mahoney
then arose and moved that the
charge against Mr. Kimball be withdrawn.
Mr. Bunting added his voice to the motion,
and it was adopted by the
same vote precisely and the vote on the resolution
was withdrawn.

Mr. Stockell then arose and expressed a desire to know where the action just had left
the Masher question. He was informed that
the matter stood just where it was before the
last meeting.

The clerk was then asked to read the two
reports of the Masher investigation committee
and when done, to substitute a motion to
adopt the minority report. The ayes and
noes were voted for, and the call resulted: Ayes
—Messrs. Healey, Measlin, McAfee, Gray,
Bunting, Kutz, Day, Mahoney and Coates—<

H. J. KIMBALL, L. E. WHEELER & CO., ARCHITECTS, Constitution Building.

Firing and Gilding China for Amateurs
At Lycott's Art School, 67½ Whitehall street, LESSONS IN ALL BRANCHES. ARTISTS PAINTERS,
etc. Write for Circular.

COTTON AND WEATHER

Daily Weather Report.
OBSERVER'S OFFICE SIGNAL CORPS, U. S. A., U. S. COTTON HOUSE, December 29, 10:31 P.M.
All observations taken at the same moment
of time at each place named.

NAME OF STATION.	Baumolometer.	Wind.
Atlanta	50.40	E Fresh
Augusta	50.41	N Fresh
Key West	50.12	N Fresh
Savannah	50.35	E Fresh

LOCAL OBSERVATIONS.

Time of observation.	Barom.	Wind.	Pressure.	Clouds.	Weather.
8:31 A.M.	30.45	E Fresh	00.10	Cloudy
12:31 P.M.	30.48	N. N.W.	00.10	Cloudy
2:31 P.M.	30.49	N. N.W.	00.10	Cloudy
5:31 P.M.	30.40	E Fresh	00.10	Cloudy
Moscow	30.10	W. N.W.	00.10	Cloudy

Moscow, 50.41, maximum therm. 60.0
therefore, 60.0 Minimum therm. 60.3
" " 60.0 Total rain all. 0.01

THE STEVENS WATCH
MADE IN ATLANTA.

And Pronounced as Good

—AS ANY—

IN THE WORLD.
A Thousand Times
BETTER THAN MANY.
SEND FOR OUR CIRCULAR.J. P. Stevens & Co.
JEWELERS

MEETINGS.

Gate City National Bank of Atlanta, Ga.
The regular annual meeting of the stockholders
of this bank for the election of directors will be held at our office on the 15th day of January, 1885, at 11 o'clock a.m.

Edward S. McCandless, Cashier.

CITY ITEMS.

Send and get your wrapping paper at The Constitution office, for 25 cents a hundred. Large sheets.

THE BRADSTREET BUDGET.

The List of Failures in the United States for the Past Week.There were 278 failures in the United States reported to Bradstreet's during the week, against 303
in the preceding week, and 260, 262 and 161 in the corresponding weeks of 1883, 1882 and 1881, respectively. About 80 per cent were those of small trading concerns, and about 20 per cent of large ones.
Among these reported embarrassed were Wangler & Co.,
cigar manufacturers, New York City; Ward, Stanton & Co., shipbuilders, Newburgh, N. Y.; Walker, Judd & Vesce, lumber, Marine mills, Minnesota; Nathan Gross, clothing, Evansville, Ind.; Ap-
leton, Wis.; W. H. & Son, dry goods, St. Louis;
John L. McDonald, dry goods, Lincoln, Neb.; N.
A. & Co., dry goods, St. Louis; W. H. & Son, dry goods, Jackson, Mich., and W. J.
Wilson & Co., bankers, Evansville, Ill. In the principal trade centers, Atlanta, Ga., general stores, grocery, clothing, dry goods, hardware, farm
ware and agricultural implements, 13; jewelry, 13;
furs, 13; shoes, 11; manufacturers, 10; millinery,
8; printing, 8; druggists, 8; men's wear, 8; tobacco
goods, 6; books, paper, prints, etc., 6; tobacco and cigars, 5; hotels and restaurants, 3; furniture and household goods, 3; tailors, 3; hats, 3; carriages, 3; harness, 3; lumber and material carriages, 3; fancy goods, 2; butchers, 2.
The other 200 failures were in the trade to Atlanta and in the cities.Alabama—Opelika, Tucker & Daniels, saloon, assigned. Selma—E. A. Scott & Co., clothing, assigned. Tuscaloosa—J. W. Stringer & Co., general store, closed by sheriff.Georgia—Atlanta—O. M. Gay, clothing, 100,000; liabilities $150,000. Atlanta—H. T. Head-grover, failed and sold out to creditors, 100,000; liabilities about $100,000. California—San Jose—John J. Loveland, dry goods, failed. Liabilities estimated at $100,000.
Actual assets $10,000. Talbotton, S. W.—Thornton, got into difficulty with his creditors, failed.
Liabilities about $20,000. Nominal assets $22,000.
New Jersey—Jersey City—Asa Jones, general
store, assigned to George Allen, groceries $1,000.
Elizabeth City—T. J. Jordan, general store,
assigned to James W. Johnson, groceries $1,000; nominal assets $1,000. Montauk—Shipping &
General Agency, Wm. H. Morgan, insurance
agent, general store, assigned. Liabilities $1,000.
T. J. Johnson, dry goods, Washington,
D. C., general store, assigned. Liabilities $1,000.
South Carolina—Bamberg, Stevans & Elsey, considerable, and restaurant assigned. Charleston, Ga.—John J. Ward, dry goods, assigned. Liabilities
$20,000. Nominal assets $2,000. Savannah—
Dartington, J. A. Davis, saloon, closed by sheriff.
D. W. & M. Agnew, general store, failed and mortgaged to James W. Johnson, 100,000;
K. H. Morris, general store, failed.Tennessee—Memphis—W. F. Berry, dry goods, closed by sheriff. Liabilities $100,000. Actual assets $10,000. Mrs. W. F. Berry, dry goods, attached.
Liabilities about $100,000; actual assets $10,000. Shelves in stock, mortgaged for $7,000.New York—Albany—James Aspinwall, general store, assigned to George Allen, groceries $1,000.
Elizabeth City—T. J. Jordan, general store,
assigned to James W. Johnson, groceries $1,000; nominal assets $1,000. Montauk—Shipping &
General Agency, Wm. H. Morgan, insurance
agent, general store, assigned. Liabilities $1,000.
T. J. Johnson, dry goods, Washington, D. C., general store, assigned. Liabilities $1,000.This clever prestidigitator will open to night at the opera house a season of doubly wonderful performances, wonderful by the generosity of his gifts
and commands, by the execution of his extraordinary tricks. The price of admission is $1.00. He will go to the people this being his first visit here, that his entertainment may be of the best for them, and on outward his tour he will command a price which will solidly establish him. His programme is varied, introducing new features each night, and each and every night he has news is something useful and practical. To night, remember.

Special Business Notices.

A CARD TO ALL WHO ARE SUFFER-ING FROM ENRUMPHED INDIGO, loss of youth, nervous weakness early decay, loss of strength, etc.
I will send a recipe that will cure you rapidly
of CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send self addressed envelope to REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York. Dec 25th in the way you next receive it.WASHINGTON SEMINARY, 16 East Cain Street, Atlanta, Ga.SELECT BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR GIRLS AND YOUNG LADIES. Academic and Educational good advantages; reasonable terms.
Fall Term begins first Monday in September. For circulars apply toMRS. BAYLOR STEWART, Principal.PHOTOGRAPHS
FOR CHRISTMASAll who desire pictures for Christmas
A presents should call early and give their orders and avoid the rush. I am prepared to make from fifty to one hundred settings daily.

C. W. MOTES

DAVID H. DOUGHERTY,

The Only

SPOT CASH

DEALER.

Christmas trade is over, and we whipped the fight by dealing solid shot right square into the face of opposition. We have not over

$10 WORTH

OF

HOLIDAY GOODS

LEFT ON HAND.

Now we turn our artillery in another direction. We are going to make the fight now on Blankets, Comforts,

KNIT UNDERWEAR,

CLOAKS, FLANNELS

DRESS GOODS,

SIKS, HOSIERY AND HANDKERCHIEFS.

Our artillery is loaded with the above goods, and we are going to use

SHOES

For priming, or in other words,

AS CAPS.

10-4 White Blankets for 90
cents, formerly $1.25.
1 1/4 White Blankets for $3.00,
formerly $4.50.Another lot of those elegant Cotton Flannels at 5 cents.
Also a plenty of those all-wool
filling Grey Twilled Flannels, 12 1/2 cents, formerly 20 cents.A button Shoe for ladies at $1.25, worth $1.75. We sell the best hand made Shoe for school children and for ladies made in the United States, and they are only half the price of other hand made Shoes. Every pair warranted.All our 15 and 20 cents dress goods put down to 10 cents.
Big drives in Black and Colored Cashmeres.

BOYD &

ATLANTA FURN

WHOLESALE MA

Walnut and Poplar

BUREAUS AN

A SPEC

Workmanship

and Finish

E

SEND FOR NEW CATAL

Nos. 531, 533, 535 and

537 MARIETTA ST.

ATLANTA,

NO. 5 NORTH FO

Manufacturers of Wire and

WIRE WORK OF EV

Were Chairs, S

Hanging Baskets, Fire Sc

WINDOW

OFFICE RAILING A

J. L. SO

COTTON

COTTON GINS CANE MI

Grist Mills, Saw Mills, Reamer Lumber Gages,

STEAM PUMPS, IRON PI

ENGINE FITTINGS

GENERAL MACHINE

NEW

make

Engine and Boiler Repairing

A. B. FARQU

CENTRAL CITY IRON

PAUL

22 ALABAM

Carries

Old Baker and

WHIS

Imported Brandies, Gins, Sher

Sec, Vodka, Monopo

le, G. H. Mumms & Co.

Champ

French

APOLLINARIS WA

AN

FINE TABL

BASS BURKE'S ALE

REGENSTEIN'S MILL

74, 76, 78 Whitehall

Great Cleari

ng Out Sale.

Balance of Toy Stock to Balance of Doll Stock to Balance of Millinery Stock

Balance of Cloak Stock to

TRIMMED HATS RE

No Sham Reductions, but

BOUND TO CLO

AT ANY

Call and see me and be

J. REGE

74, 76, 78 WHITE

HALL STREET.

LISTEN! NOW IS

Commencing on Monday,

OUR SEMI-ANNUA

MENS', BOYS' AND CH

—A

PRICES THAT DE

HIRSCH

CLOTHIERS

42 and 44 WHIT

E

GATE CITY

ATLANTA,

ATLANTA,